

Legal Entity Beneficial Owner(s) Certification

What is this form?

Person(s) opening an account on behalf of a legal entity (business) needs to provide specific information as required by the Bank Secrecy Act.

This regulation requires Santander to collect this information to help fight financial crime, because legal entities may be used to disguise involvement in money laundering, terrorist financing, tax evasion, fraud, and other financial crimes.

What information is required?

Name and Address of Business

This form collects three key pieces of information:

- 1. Information on any legal entity (business) that owns this business.
- 2. The people who have ownership of the legal entity (business).
- 3. One individual who has significant responsibility for managing the legal entity (business).

If you feel your business is exempt from providing this information, such as a company listed on the New York or NASDAQ stock exchange, please ask to review the exemption certification form.
